

A series of approximately 15 thin, parallel orange lines that originate from a point in the upper-left quadrant and fan out towards the bottom-right corner of the image. The lines are most densely packed near their origin and become more widely spaced as they extend.

retrodata scientific